Mackerel Notes.

Sch. S. F. Maker arrived from seining this morning. Capt. Peart reports taking 114 barrels of mackerel on Georges and then striking down across Brown's Bank and all over the Bay of Fundy. There were five or six other seiners there, and all searched the grounds thoroughly, but failed to find any signs of mackerel.

Sch. Elsie F. Rowe has been twice to Matinicus and back and seen no mackerel or signs of any and steamer A. B. Nickerson reports none in Boston Bay. No reports of mackerel are received from out Block Island way and the only place there appears to be any is on Georges and according to latest reports there seems to be another school struck on for some of the late caught fish were taken farther to the westward and are smaller fish than those taken on the southeast part.

Sch. Hattie A. Heckman, Capt. Ralph Webber, is at Boston today with 25 barrels of salt mackerel and 10,000 fresh mackerel. The Heckman sailed from here only last Monday and secured her fair to the westward of where the previous catches were made.

The fare of sch. Bertha and Pearl sold to George Perkins & Son at $11 per barrel. The fare of sch. Scythia was divided up at $11 per barrel and that of sch. Hazel Oneita sold to Pinkham & Foster at $11 1-16 per barrel.

Fresh mackerel are arriving in small lots at Portland from near Harpswell, where they are being netted by the fishermen who are cruising around those waters most of the time.

What is probably the largest mackerel ever landed is on exhibition in the show window of Wonsen's Spa. It was brought in yesterday by sch. Norumbega, Capt. John McKinnon. It is 24 1-4 inches long and weighed 6 pounds and 14 ounces.

GOOD NEWS.

Report That Squid Have Struck Around Sable Island.

Dory Handliners Are Now Getting Some Fish.

Reliable advices have been received here this week that squid have struck in around Sable Island and that the dory handlining fleet, which up to this time has done practically nothing is now doing fairly well.

This is good news as the handline fish are always in demand and command a higher price than trawl cod. It would seem from the tenor of the advices that the vessels now have a chance of securing fares.

Provincetown Whaling Notes.

Capt. John Dunham of sch. W. A. Grozier, on the Hatteras ground, June 24, reports his schooner as having secured 200 barrels of sperm oil since leaving port. The sch. Carrie Knowles was in the vicinity with 160 barrels. The Grozier had lost much oil through the drifting away of captured whales. Sch. Ellen A. Swift, which has been absent on a North Atlantic whaling cruise since June, 1900, had taken 1410 barrels of sperm oil at last reports and is expected to arrive during August next.

Mackerel Notes.

The captain of the steamer from Yarmouth, N. S., at Boston yesterday reports that at 6 o'clock Thursday evening, when 25 miles west of Yarmouth he sighted several large schools of fish. He couldn't tell what they were, but thought they might be mackerel. At the same time, from five to 10 miles inside of him were a half a dozen sail of vessels which he took to be seiners, and he thought they looked as though they were working on fish.

The fare of sch. Elsie L. Hall sold to Slade Gorton & Co. at $10.50 per barrel.

The fare of sch. Indiana sold to D. E. Woodbury.

A dispatch was received here from one of the Gloucester seiners at Yarmouth, N. S., Wednesday, asking what were the mackerel prospects this way, indicating that there were no fish there yet.
